

There is no better time to upgrade to the Zeon Digital two-way radio network

Motorola is giving SmartNet customers the opportunity to convert to the latest in digital two-way communication, Zeon Digital, at a very special rate. The digital experience and added features will transform the way you communicate and interact.

The Zeon Digital advantage

Upgrading to the latest in digital two-way radio technology provides you with features that improve the way your workers communicate and interact above and beyond the SmartNet analogue solution.

Zeon Digital features include:

- Two-way radio communications, group and one-to-one
- Exceptional voice clarity
- Secure communication
- Voice and data communication
- Text messaging
- 24/7 online GPS tracking of radios
- Emergency button with GPS locator
- Seamless roaming providing consistent connectivity without changing channels

Future-proof network

You wouldn't invest in old computers so why would you invest in old two way radio technology?

The Zeon Digital two-way radio solution offers the latest digital communications technology.

The Zeon Digital network is designed, built and owned by Motorola with all radios specifically designed to match the network. Investing in Zeon Digital equipment provides you with the peace of mind that it will work day after day and be supported by the worldwide leaders in two-way communication for many years to come.
